

A snapshot of wine in all its glorious diversity, as compiled by Richard in Singapore.

This month's collection of tasting notes comes from two main sources: the masterclass wines tasted at 67 Pall Mall's launches in Hong Kong and Melbourne (pictured above, in a converted church) and the Master of Wine student seminar in Adelaide.

Felton Road, Bannockburn Pinot Noir 2022 Central Otago

Succulent red berries on the nose, with green undergrowth adding complexity. Delicious smokiness on the palate, and effortless persistence. Has substance without being over-charged. The essence of Pinot. (RH)
